DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. This office action is in response to the amendment submitted on 26 September 2005. Based on applicant's amendments and arguments the 112 rejection of claims 24-26 has been overcome.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC, § 102/103

2. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

3. Claims 7 and 32-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Xiao et al (US Patent No. 5,747,392) for the reasons set forth in the previous office action and which are herein incorporated by reference.

Applicant argues that the reference fails to teach a composition containing two fluorochemicals and accordingly the instant claims are not met by the reference.

To this argument the examiner respectfully disagrees. As stated in the previous office action it is the position of the examiner that the fluorochemical component meets both the repellent and soil release component. Note that column 10, lines 11+, recite that the fluorochemical provides water and stain resistance. Therefore it is the position that the one component of the reference meets component (a) and (c) of the instant claims as there is nothing in the claim to suggest that one compound could not meet 2 components as long as it meets the properties desired (i.e. repellency and soil release).

Art Unit: 1755

Also it should be noted that as amended both (a) and (c) can be fluorine containing components which would suggest that the one component of the reference could meet 2 components found in the instant claims. Furthermore the specification recites on page 5 that one chemical component may serve as 2 components. Accordingly the instant claims are met by the reference absent a showing otherwise.

4. Claims 24-25 and 29-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Xiao et al (US Patent No. 5,747,392) for the reasons set forth in the previous office action and which are herein incorporated by reference.

Again applicant argues that since the reference does not teach 2 fluorochemicals the instant claims are not obvious over the reference. It is the position of the examiner that that the one component of the reference meets component (a) and (c) of the instant claims. Also it should be noted that as amended both (a) and (c) can be fluorine containing components which would suggest that the one component of the reference could meet 2 components found in the instant claims. Furthermore the specification recites on page 5 that one chemical component may serve as 2 components. Accordingly the instant claims are rendered obvious by the reference absent evidence showing otherwise.

5. Claims 7, 24-25 and 29-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Xiao et al (US Patent No. 5,747,392) for the reasons set forth in the previous office action and which are herein incorporated by reference.

Applicant argues that since the reference does not teach 2 fluorochemicals the instant claims are not obvious over the reference. It is the position of the examiner that that the one component of the reference meets component (a) and (c) of the instant claims. Also it should be noted that as amended both (a) and (c) can be fluorine containing components which would suggest that the one component of the reference could meet 2 components found in the instant claims. Furthermore the specification recites on page 5 that one chemical component may serve as 2 components. Accordingly the instant claims are rendered obvious by the reference absent evidence showing otherwise.

6. Claims 7, 24-31 and 33-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Vogt (US Patent No. 6,238,266) in view of Schmoyer (US Patent No. 4,014,857) or Lipowitz et al (US Patent No. 4,207,071) for the reasons set forth in the previous office action and which are herein incorporated by reference.

Applicant argues that the combination of references does not render obvious the instant claims as they do not teach or suggest two fluorine-containing components.

To this argument the examiner respectfully disagrees as the primary reference teaches that fluorocarbons may be added along with the soil release agents that are taught by the secondary references. Note that Schmoyer teaches that the soil release agents are fluorinated and have oil and water repellency. Accordingly the combination of references suggests the use of hydrophobic agents which may be fluorocarbons and soil release agents that may be fluorochemicals thus rendering obvious the instant claims absent evidence showing otherwise. Furthermore since the soil release agents of the Schmoyer reference are also water repellent they could meet both component (a) and (c) of the instant claims. Accordingly the instant claims are obvious over the references absent evidence showing otherwise.

Conclusion

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
